Craig Leon revisits the extraterrestrial origins of civilization on Anthology of Interplanetary Folk Music Vol. 2: The Canon . Picking up where the pioneering electronic albums

Nommos

and

Visiting (Anthology of Interplanetary Folk Music Vol. 1)

left off,

The Canon

traces the imparted knowledge of alien visitors as it spread from Africa across the ancient world.

Co-produced and featuring vocals by Cassell Webb, the pair engage a sonic pallet familiar from Vol. 1, updated with ecstatic contemporary sound and synthesis, creating a propulsive, exploratory album of cosmic lore and speculative anthropology.
