

Matthew Jeanes began checking brainwashed.com for Meat Beat Manifesto information on a regular basis in 1997 by telnetting into the Tallahassee freenet. Since those nascent days online, he's upgraded from the 9600 baud modem and has been contributing to The Brain from 2002. Jeanes currently divides his waking hours between writing for Brainwashed, creating his own music, watching strange movies, and playing soccer. He currently lives in Austin, Texas.
